

ProMAX Systems is the Exclusive US Reseller of Marquise Technologies

The Switzerland based company specializing in solutions for post-production has selected ProMAX to be the only reseller in the USA.

Irvine, CA (PRWEB) July 12, 2010 -- After months of deliberation, Marquise Technologies has awarded ProMAX Systems to be the exclusive USA reseller of R A I N and M I S T, a software and turn-key solution, based on NVIDIA Digital Video Pipeline. Marquise Technologies also has resellers in Italy, France, Norway, and Japan.

This partnership will add value to the ProMAX brand by providing a unique solution to enhance editors' workflow. The advantage to the software and turn-key solution is having the opportunity to prep your footage on set or in pre-post. Both platforms are the next generation of production and post tools designed for the tapeless and digital cinema future.

These products provide high-end capabilities for image processing, data conforming, color grading, restoration, and finishing. One of the key benefits to these programs is everything is done in real time without rendering.

Jess Hartmann, CEO of ProMAX Systems believes these products create a unique opportunity, "The convergence between production and post production workflow is causing us all to rethink how we create the most efficiency. This new tool set merges workflows between production and post allowing you to work in raw format on the set which saves you hours of cleanup in post."

"We believe that ProMAX is a partner of choice for handling our products on the US market mainly because of their knowledge of the industry and their skilled team. ProMAX has also a deep understanding of the technology our products are based on and this gives them a serious advantage regarding the client support in the US. Moreover, ProMAX totally shares the philosophy of our products," says Laurence Stoll, CEO of Marquise Technologies.

As the exclusive reseller in the USA, ProMAX will provide educational opportunities through demonstrations and detailed consultations. To learn more about the solutions and how it can benefit your workflow, saving time and money, please contact ProMAX Systems.
